

I'll Stop

half•alive

I've been tryna melt you down
Change your mind and how you felt
Make you into someone else
It never helped, it never helped
I don't wanna make you hurt
And justify what I deserve
I love you and only if
Will never work, will never help

Wonder why you'd even stay
And watch me rage that you would change? Ah

I'll stop tryna make you better
There was nothing ever wrong
It's not my job to change you
Just 'cause I can't relate to
Your seasons, God it takes two
I was summer, you were fall
Keep changing like the weather
I'll stop tryna make you better, I'll stop
Keep changing like the weather
I'll stop tryna make you better, I'll stop

Were you ever who I thought you were?
Was it only in my head?
I kept the feeling down, I think I made you up
All I see is a blurry dream of Who I wanted you to be and
To make you into her would never help

Wonder why you'd even stay
And watch me rage that you would change? Ah

I'll stop tryna make you better
There was nothing ever wrong
It's not my job to change you
Just 'cause I can't relate to
Your seasons, God it takes two
I was summer, you were fall
Keep changing like the weather
I'll stop tryna make you better, I'll stop

I've been tryna melt you down
Make you into someone else, yeah
You deserve to be yourself
And maybe that's with someone else
Yeah, I could never melt you down
Make you into someone else
Holding tighter doesn't help
In the end, it won't work out, so

I'll stop tryna make you better
There was nothing ever wrong
It's not my job to change you
Just 'cause I can't relate to
Your seasons, God it takes two
I was summer, you were fall

Keep changing like the weather
I'll stop tryna make you better, I'll stop
Keep changing like the weather
I'll stop tryna make you better, I'll stop
Keep changing like the weather
I'll stop tryna make you better, I'll stop
