

perfectly broken

Halflives

I don't need you to save me, save me, save me
From myself at all
And I know you can't break me, break me, break me
'Cause I'm broken so perfectly

It's happening again
I make an enemy of everything I do
And everything I say
Well, maybe I'm not okay
I live my life hanging by a thread
Somedays I can't get out of my bed
Well, hey
Maybe that's ok

'Cause I don't need you to save me, save me, save me
From myself at all
So you can go on and hate me, hate me, hate me
I don't care no more
'Cause I've just started making friends
With these demons in my head
So don't save me, save me, save me
'Cause I'm broken so perfectly

Yes, I've been shouting at the void
Until I have lost my voice
But I never found out why
(Now I can see it!)
'Cause I'm calling out
To the darkness now
Getting better
Getting better just a little bit

'Cause I don't need you to save me, save me, save me
From myself at all
So you can go on and hate me, hate me, hate me
I don't care no more
'Cause I've just started making friends
With these demons in my head
So don't save me, save me, save me
'Cause I'm broken so perfectly
I'm broken so perfectly

And I'm starting to love the dark
So I let it heal my scars
There's beauty in the rain
Wash away all my pain

It's happening again
I make an enemy of everything I do
And everything I say
Well, maybe I'm not okay

But I don't need you to save me, save me, save me
From myself at all
'Cause I'm broken
So perfectly broken

'Cause I don't need you to save me, save me, save me
From myself at all
So you can go on and hate me, hate me, hate me
'Cause I've just started making friends
So don't save me, save me, save me
'Cause I'm broken so perfectly
I'm broken so perfectly
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

And I'm starting to love the dark
I've learned to love my pain
