

Pagan Warrior

Halgadom

Pagan warrior, crush the weak
Pagan warrior, that's what you believe
The slaves of the cross, they fight for their life
But we are stronger, and only the strongest survive

Open your eyes, than you will see
The flame of wisdom, the flame of eternity
For our woman and children, with swords to kill
It's in our hearts: The triumph of the will

Hail Thor, hail Wotan, we fight for a new order
The bastards priests of god will reign no longer
The time is right to fight
See victory or eternal light

Your young blood cry for war, let the battle begin
Burn the cross and smash the fools, we will win
Their holy book is just a book of lies
The spirit of our ancestors will never die

I am the pagan warrior, crush the weak
I am the pagan warrior, that's what I believe
The slaves of the cross, they fight for their life
But I am stronger, because only the strongest survive
