

Justice for All

Halloween

They don't know what you're going through
Too blind to see how you live
Hell is real and you know it too
Lose twice as much as you give
Goodhearted people get taken for a ride
Nothing left to show
Locked away for your innocence
No place you can hide, no...

Take you away from society
Play with your mind like a toy
Break you down, tear you apart
They try to make you cry
They turn their heads from the killers
They don't care, no, no...
And they come down on the winners
It's not fair, no, no...

And they call it justice for all, nobody cares
Everyone takes what they can
And innocent people don't know what they did
Lay broken and dying again, no...

Justice for all liars and cheaters
Life is acrimony, it's too bad
Justice for all isn't what it should be
There is no justice, it's no justice, it's sad!
