

New England Crows

Hamilton Leithauser

Hear a song in Autumn glow
Cackling like New England crows
Tears on their cheeks
Scarlet, crimson and paint

Heart beats like dragon drums
Children screaming burning lungs
When you're with me
Ceilings gone

Stars in our eyes
Blessed like lightening white

Me and Thomas in New Haven
Walking ten feet tall
(Stars in our eyes)
Me and Thomas out in Ohio
(Star in our eyes)
Walking through the corn
(Star in our eyes)

All the leaves in October
Burning bright orange and red
All the money in our pockets
Long been spent

Me and Thomas out in Ohio
Walking through the corn

New York City
Bloodshot moon
Till the next time
See you soon

New York City
Bloodshot moon
Till the next time
See you soon
