Remember Yesterday

HammerFall

Can you tell me why it seems so hard to carry on When you hear a voice from long ago, so bittersweet

Even though I try, I can not read between the lines You know I tried, Oh, yes, I tried, what's wrong

Too late to turn back time To look over my shoulder Maybe one day I'll return again

Remember Yesterday and think about tomorrow But you have to live today

Oh, lonely yesterday don't leave me with the sorrow Cause I have to live today

Every morning I awake to see the newborn day To carry on the flame until the end of time

Too late to turn back time
To look over my shoulder
Maybe one day I'll return again

Remember Yesterday and think about tomorrow But you have to live today

Oh, lonely yesterday don't leave me with the sorrow Cause I have to live today

Oh, oh, oh, don't you step aside and pretend about the future Oh, oh, oh, never live a lie don't you know tomorrow never comes

Remember Yesterday and think about tomorrow But you have to live today Oh, lonely yesterday don't leave me with the sorrow Cause I have to live today
