Scars of a Generation

HammerFall

Now listen to this my friends

On the first day of creation we were electrified
The rebel generation, born to amplify
The call of the wild was burning inside
Shattered minds across the universe couldn't bare the thunder

Second day was dawning we were immortalized
The clash of metal sounded, and no one could defy
And out the blue, the storm broke lose
And the green-eyed monster sang the blues to choke our flame

By blood scars will pyre
A generation lost 'n mocked 'n scorned
Cleansed by fire, restored

On the last day came the winter so crystal clear and brand
But deep inside the fire was not ready to face the end
We kept our eyes shut awaited the dark
To rebellion the hypocrisy resurrecting the stars

By blood scars will pyre
A generation lost 'n mocked 'n scorned
Cleansed by fire, we will be reborn

This is our destiny all that was meant to be
The passion of the sacred fire is burning deep inside

By blood scars will pyre
A generation lost 'n mocked 'n scorned
Cleansed by fire, restored
By blood scars will pyre
A generation lost 'n mocked 'n scorned
Cleansed by fire, we will be reborn
