Honest Mistake

Handsome Ghost

No sound, cool air
Feel the first light find my way
To your house, up the stairs
Here to meet my judgment day

I should have been there when you called for me
From your third floor Greenpoint balcony

I'm a little bit older baby, I'm a little bit wiser lately
It was an honest mistake, it was an honest mistake
Come a little bit closer to me, I'm seeing it differently
It was an honest mistake, it was an honest mistake

Summer passed, fade to fall
I'm a tourist in your town
Photographs, on your wall
Oh the life that you have now

I should have been there when you called for me
From your third floor Greenpoint balcony

I'm a little bit older baby, I'm a little bit wiser lately
It was an honest mistake, it was an honest mistake
Come a little bit closer to me, I'm seeing it differently
It was an honest mistake, it was an honest mistake

So all that was and all that could have been
I lost you once but I'm not giving in

I'm a little bit older baby, I'm a little bit wiser lately
It was an honest mistake, it was an honest mistake
Come a little bit closer to me, I'm seeing it differently
It was an honest mistake, it was an honest mistake
