

But That's All Right

Hank Thompson

Black satin slippers and the long flowing gown walking on the clouds never looking down
Baby that's you baby that's the way I look at you
But that's all right yeah that's all right lovin' you may be wrong but that's all right
That funny looking thing that little grain of sand
Laying on the ground shake just like a man
Baby that's me or maybe that's the way I look to you
But that's all right yeah that's all right lovin' you may be wrong but that's all right
Everybody's gotta be different no one is the same
If everyone love the life who could win the game
But that's all right yeah that's all right lovin' you may be wrong but that's all right
Lovin' you may be wrong but that's all right
Lovin' you may be wrong but that's all right
