

Let's Get Drunk and Be Somebody

Hank Thompson

Let's get drunk and be somebody
Drink everything from champagne to toddy
Pour it please to purge my painful pride
Hey bartender I'd like to forget
I'm for everything that's wet
Let's get drunk and be somebody

Tomorrow morning I won't care if the sun don't shine
The whole world's gonna look rosy
To these bloodshot eyes of mine
I want to forget that big bossman
And the little woman that don't understand
Let's get drunk and be somebody

[fiddle - guitar]

Let's get drunk and be somebody
Drink everything from champagne to toddy
A gushing goblet coats my ghostly gloom
Hey bartender I'd like to forget
I'm for everything that's wet
Let's get drunk and be somebody

Tomorrow morning I won't care if the sun don't shine
The whole world's gonna look rosy
To these bloodshot eyes of mine
I want to forget that big bossman
And the little woman who don't understand
Let's get drunk and be somebody
