

Black Ice

Hanna Pakarinen

the candles are all burnt out the glasses empty
no one here but this quiet

you have nowhere to be but you're here so why do I try?

What I never get?
the words I need to hear forgive
what I can't forget

so tired, I know you hear me there's nothing but a chill between us bled dry, my veins are empty
there's nothing
but a chill inside me
someday your gonna wake up
and find yourself
alone ith baggage
so tragic
where nothing's ever good enough

we all are guilty
there is no innocent tonight we hurt each other
just to feel something inside how I've tried

to give
When I never get
when I'm the only one t
the cry
don't you ever

so cold when we're together
there's nothing
but a chill between us
slow down, we know it's over
your gonna find yourself alone and broken
still frozen
when nothing's ever good enough

Didn't I share my darkest dreams?
Didn't I give you everything?
have the nerve
to look me in the eye

And I'm all out of breathe

so cold there's a chill between us so cold it will never leave us so cruel there's a chill between us so cruel will you ever let me in

but a chill inside of me
alone with baggage
the damage
the kind of emptiness that kills you give me the chills
