

Break From The Weather

Hannah Ellis

This morning I woke up
Pillow covered in make-up
Caught up in the thought of, our love
And why it didn't last
I'm losing my mind
Yeah I'm wrecked on the inside
But if you look outside, it's so nice
And that ain't what I need

I was hoping for a dark cloud
To look out and see it coming down
Oh it sounds so strange
But I keep praying for rain, yeah
So I'm just gonna shut the blinds
Block out all the sunshine
'Cause that blue in the sky
Is too close to the blue in your eyes
I just need a break from the weather
It's trying to make me feel better
Since we ain't been together
There's been too many sunny days

Is it too much to ask
For a little overcast
A second to be sad without that
Bird singing out my window

I was hoping for a dark cloud
To look out and see it coming down
Oh it sounds so strange
But I keep praying for rain, yeah
So I'm just gonna shut the blinds
Block out all the sunshine
'Cause that blue in the sky
Is too close to the blue in your eyes
I just need a break from the weather
It's trying to make me feel better
Since we ain't been together
There's been too many sunny days

Rain, rain, won't you come and stay
Wash away, my heartache
Rain, rain, tell me where you been
Did he take you with him

I just need a break from the weather
It's trying to make me feel better
Since we ain't been together
There's been too many sunny days

I was hoping for a dark cloud
To look out and see it coming down
Oh it sounds so strange
But I keep praying for rain, yeah
So I'm just gonna shut the blinds
Block out all the sunshine
'Cause that blue in the sky

Is too close to the blue in your eyes
I just need a break from the weather
It's trying to make me feel better
Since we ain't been together
There's been too many sunny days

Yeah I just need a break from the weather
It's trying to make me feel better
Since we ain't been together
There's been too many sunny days
