

Silver Lining

Hannah Grace

Spending my days riding waves
Trying to breathe, but it ain't coming easy
Praying for much brighter days
I'm sick of the clouds, oh, they're grey and they're heavy

Waiting for change
That losing game

When the world doesn't want me to find it
I'll paint my own silver lining
Let the colour sink into my skin
Oh, I'll let the love out, then I'll let it back in
I'll wake up to find it
My silver lining

Look at my canvas of pink
It works like a remedy, but it's gone in a blink
All of the years and the time in the making
The hurt and the heart and the aching

Waiting for change
That losing game
Look what you've made
You'll never be the same

When the world doesn't want me to find it
I'll paint my own silver lining
Let the colour sink into my skin
Oh, I'll let the love out, then I'll let it back in
I'll wake up to find it
My silver lining

I should give myself a break
Though doubt may push me over
I know that I can take the pain
It will only bring me closer
To change
To change

When the world doesn't want me to find it
I'll paint my own silver lining
Let the colour sink into my skin
Oh, I'll let the love out, then I'll let it back in
Let the colour sink into my skin
Oh, I'll let the love out, then I'll let it back in
I'll wake up to find it
My silver lining
Oh, oh
