

Glimpse

Hannah Kerr

Glimpses of Your glory, all creation breathes
Only one can stand beyond the beauty, before me
The further I fall into You, the further I can go
The more I know about You, the more I want to know

I've only seen a glimpse
All I've had in moments
It's enough, oh, it's enough
I can't see it all
But the mystery is holy
And I know, there is so much more than this
And I've only seen a glimpse
I've only seen a glimpse

My soul, it understands what my eyes cannot perceive
When I behold Your majesty, Your presence surrounds me
The further I fall into You, the further I can go
The more I know about You, the more I want to know

I've only seen a glimpse
All I've had in moments
It's enough, oh-oh-oooh, it's enough
And I can't see it all
But the mystery is holy
And I know, there is so much more than this
And I've only seen a glimpse
I've only seen a glimpse

Show me, show me
The depth of Your glory
Show me, show me
The length of Your love
Show me, show me
The width of Your mercy
Show me, show me
I know there's more to come

And I've only seen a glimpse
All I've had in moments
It's enough, oh, it's enough
And I can't see it all
But the mystery is unfolding
And I know, there is so much more than this
And I've only seen a glimpse
I've only seen a glimpse

Oh, I couldn't love You more than
I couldn't love You more than I already did
Show me more, show me more of You
