

Split The Sea

Hannah Kerr

Never thought I'd be where I am now
No way through and no way out
Oh, it's hard, but I'm still holding on Even here, nothing's too far gone

I believe
Every promise that You've spoken
I believe
You are faithful every moment
And it may look impossible
But You're the God of miracles
You have always made a way for me
You can still split the sea

With a word, the waves will separate
Who You were, You are, You'll never change
Hearts will heal and mountains move
There is nothing that You cannot do

I believe
Every promise that You've spoken
I believe
You are faithful every moment
And it may look impossible
But You're the God of miracles
You have always made a way for me
You can still split the sea
You can still split the sea, yeah

As I wait up the shore
Lift my hands up to You, Lord
I believe
I still believe, oh
As I wait up on the shore
Lift my hands up to You, Lord
I believe
I still believe
I believe

I believe
Every promise that You've spoken
I believe
You are faithful every moment
And it may look impossible
But You're the God of miracles
You have always made a way for me
You can still split the sea
You can still split the sea
