

Bridges Of Stone

Hanson

Oh yeah
You can only push someone so far
You can only break so many hearts
Used to be, love one another
Now its lust for your lover
Baby, I was trying to burn bridges of stone
Yeahh
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
In this game we play, things are often wrong
But you can only wait so long
There goes memories from yesterday
There goes poetry of all the thing I couldn't say
You can only wait so long
Before all the flower petals are all gone
Baby, I was trying to burn bridges of stone
Yeahh
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
In this game we play, things are often wrong
You can only wait so long
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
In this game we play, things are often wrong
You can only wait so long
Woh oo oh
Why didn't you out for call out for me (call out to me)
It not like I was ever far away (ever far away)
Oh, dive into the endless dark and deep
There nothing left but a million words to say
You can only push someone so far
You can only break so many hearts
We all love memories
And I've served my time in pain
Don't give in to enemies
They'll just leave you in the rain
We'll find a way somehow
Through this winding, twisting road we found
You won't find me cryin' in what use to be home
You won't find me trying to burn bridges of stone
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
In this game we play, things are often wrong
You can only wait so long
Yeahh
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
In this game we play, things are often wrong
You can only wait so long
You can only wait, you can only wait so long
In this game we play, things are often wrong
You can only wait so long
In this game we play, things are often wrong
You can only wait so long
