

Make It Through Today

Hanson

I tell no lies to you each day I just tell them to myself and I had dreams of a better me that got lost along the way.

My regrets they have a bitter taste that I know all too well.
but Still I dream 'cause I hate the way it feels when I'm alone.

well I'm just a shadow
Walking round in a daze
If the sun will rise tomorrow
I could make it through today.

Well I awake to the rising sun with the hope for brighter days but still I dread of what is yet to come cause In the darkness I'm alone.

Well I'm just a shadow
Walking round in a daze
If the sun will rise tomorrow
I could make it through today.

So I take a long slow drag of misery.
Can you tell me what's become of me?
I'm haunted well have the years really come to this don't know when I came undone Will I go if I get out of this place once I get that far I'll know.

Cause I'm just a shadow of what I could have been
If the sun will rise tomorrow
Maybe I can begin again
