

Wait Here For You

Hanson

Woke up early
To try and catch the rain
Across Pennsylvania
On a western bound train
All our pictures can't replace the things we've said
I don't know where we're going yet or where the tracks lead
I can't say what is waiting for you
At every stop
You blow my mind and change direction
The simple fact is I've fallen now so if you get off
I'm gonna wait here for you
I'm in Seattle
You're down in New Orleans
But that doesn't change much about the way I see things
I'll take the south bound
And meet you in between
There's no destination except where the tracks lead
I can't say what is waiting for you
At every step
You blow my mind and change direction
The simple fact is I've fallen now so if you get off
I'm gonna wait here for you
I can't get enough
It's only a touch
But it's breaking my heart
It's tearing me up
Are you in are you out
Are all of your doubts?
Taking you further
And further away
