Hanumankind

This life that I live
Might not have a chance to live again
If that's what it is
I'm gon' let it burn until the end
Pray for all my sins
Maybe one day I can make amends
Count my blessings then
Keep it 100 thousand till the end

Until the very end
Until the end
Until the very end
Until the end
Until the very end
Until the end
Until the very end

Flex my fingers, we gon' see this to the end
Ending up in places where few have ever been
And even fewer end up coming back, our chances looking slim
But we were skinny when we started, so it's back to the beginning
Don't know how the fuck we did it, we were trying to make a living
Now we live off what we making on the way to making millions
HMK be on the way, and that's more than just a saying
It's the way that I been raised, on the move how I be staying
I ain't playing, it's apparent when he walk
That the man move different, yeah, he tearing through his socks
Souls get exposed on this journey to the top of a mountain so high
How many souls we have lost?
And soul that we found?
Shit that we done seen
Love that long gone, but chase it in our dreams
Lies that we hold on 'cause the truth fucking dark
So you got to pack light, get ready, we taking off

This life that I live
Might not have a chance to live again
If that's what it is
I'm gon' let it burn until the end
Pray for all my sins
Maybe one day I can make amends
Count my blessings then
Keep it 100 thousand till the end

Until the very end
Until the end
Until the very end
Until the end
Until the very end
Until the end
Until the very end

Lost cause, hiding from the cop cars
Spot y'all driving but they only really stop ours
Locking up my brothers while they kicking down our locked doors
The pursuit of freedom was the reason that you lost yours
Everything is top draw

You can see the circle mixed with criminals and rock stars
So much shit around us that try and coming in between us
If you cut out all the scheming, man, ain't nothing 'bout to stop y'all
My side can't decide who to love and who to fight
Brothers and my sisters for an anthem that we sing with pride
After that we back on track, united how we all divide
Fuck it, there's no way that you can duck it, guess it's part of life
My vibe full tide deeper than a scuba dive
Middle of the ocean where the squids and belugas hide
Ay ay captain, kick it like it's Cobra Kai
Searching for the answers you can't see with your sober eyes
I see how they moving, what I seen leave you mortified
Got to be more to life, got to be more to life
Far from a saint, baby, daily that I toe the line
But some lines crossed, you ain't never coming back around
Take a step back, if you don't get that
I don't let that, be a set back
Bitch, I step up, how far we came
And if you ain't know, baby, we on the way

Until the very end
Until the end
Until the very end
Until the end
Until the very end
Until the end
Until the very end
