

Ode

Happy Rhodes

Believe..the sun will come out again
the sun will come out again
Believe..your love will return again
your love will return again Never cry for the rain (never cry, never cry for the rain)
It brings us soothing sounds to sleep by
And never cry because you feel unloved (never cry, never cry 'cause you're unloved) That's what your arms are for
To wrap them around yourself And believe..the sun will come out again
the sun will come out again
Believe..your love will return again
your love will return again
Never cry because you're lonely (never cry, never cry 'cause you're alone)
Your love will always be around the bend
And never cry because you think you can't make it (never cry, never cry 'cause you can't make it) You've made it this far That's better than most Believe..the sun will come out again
the sun will come out again
Believe..your love will return again
your love will return again
Never cry because you're scared (never cry, never cry because you're scared)
The only thing that can harm you is your fear
And don't ask why you must hurt so much (don't ask why, don't ask why you hurt so much)
It's just a process of healing Remember..
To believe..believe when I say..that I believe in you yes I believe in you Believe..believe when I say..that I'll love you always yes I'll love you always
