Hard-Fi

In my head you're a lovesong, You're in my head you're a lovesong
I've been waiting for you so long, Cos in my head you're a love song...

Sweat on the walls, sweat on my skin, the kick drum feels like it's breaking in
In to my belly and up my spine, 'til my whole body is beating time
She calls attention like a heart attack! She's at the bar I try to catch
Her eye but she don't look my way, So I play it cool let the music play...

In my head you're a lovesong, You're in my head you're a lovesong
I've been waiting for you so long, What's your name? Where you come from?

So beautiful she's a shining light, It must be fate that she's here tonight
I've got this song stuck in my head, I must've played 'til my fingers bled...
A voice inside as I make my move says 'Don't even try it, she's too good for you..'
Always my own worst enemy, I play it cool let the music play...
Just play it cool let the music play...

That perfect moment as your eyes meet mine
Time slows down, light and speed unwind
You got style, you got grace
You're a shining example of the human race
A shining example of the human race...

In my head you're a lovesong, You're in my head you're a lovesong
I've been waiting for you so long, What's your name? Where you come from?
In my head you're a lovesong, I've been waiting for you so long
You blow my mind where you come from?
You blow my brains out make me do wrong!!!
