

Where the North Wind Blows

Hardline

They told us we could live forever
They taught us to be free
You can forgive, but you'll always remember
Our eyes were made to see
Watch the stars, the sky's not the limit
What in life we forget to feel
If we turn our head and live for the minute
We'll find our seventh seal

Where are we going now
Where's the future of mankind?
We've been left in the cold
Where to hide our wounded soul
Will we gaze our live from above?
From above?

Sailing to a distant shore
We wandered blindly far too long
What's the price we paid for?
Crying all alone, where the north wind blows

Who's gonna guide us out of here?
Who will be our light?
Don't look back, our life is ahead

A future to made bright

Where are we going now
Where's the future of mankind?
We've been left in the cold
Where to hide our wounded soul
Will we gaze our live from above?
From above?

Sailing to a distant shore
We wandered blindly far too long
What's the price we paid for?
Crying all alone, where the north wind blows

Sailing to a distant shore
We wandered blindly far too long
What's the price we paid for?
Crying all alone
Where the north wind blows

Sailing to a distant shore
We wandered blindly far too long
What's the price we paid for?
Crying all alone
Where the north wind blows
Where the north wind blows
Where...
