

This Is Love

Hardwell

From all the highest heights to the deepest lows
I keep on trying to find someone to call my own
But then the stars align, they put us together
And it feels alright, it couldn't be better
And I won't ever let you go

I know this is love
I felt it from the start
Yeah baby, this is love
I felt it from the start, this is love
This is love, this is love

This is love

When the stars align, they put us together
And it feels so right, it couldn't be better
And I won't never let you go, I know
But this is love

I felt it from the start
Yeah baby, this is love
I felt it from the start, this is love
This is love
This is love

This is love
This is love
