

Remember

Harem Scarem

One day the world stood still
When you had come for me
A light from the dark side burns
A true epiphany guess I opened the gates
Enamored by my flood
Ya searching the fields for needles
Would be dangerous for both of us
I just want to hold you
But I'll wake up
Dying to feel what I could never have
I just want to hold you
But I'll wake up
Dying to feel what I remember
Gone all the flowers I picked
For you just wilt away
The clouds they hang above my head
And chase the sun away
