

Spinning Around

Harem Scarem

Well I feel like I've been moving
In the wrong direction
And I know that I shoot before I aim
And I know I've been falling
For the same deceptions
Heaven knows
That it's time I make a change

With all the lows
Still I know
That you'll see a light in me
That's never shown
When the world we live in
Won't stop spinning around
Gotta try to find away
To slow it down

I can deal with the hurt
And cold rejections
Cause I know that we're
All just here to fade
As I go through the world
Without detection
Then I know
We should all live for today
