

Even If You Say So

Harrison Craig

I don't wanna write this song for you
'Cause you don't deserve it
I don't wanna keep holding on for you
'Cause you didn't preserve it

You threw it all away when you left me
You hold me in your heart but you left your post
It didn't wash away with the rain
Oh this pain doesn't leave
'Cause you say so

Even if you say so
It doesn't make it all alright
Even if you say so
It doesn't mean I'm not alone
At night
Even if the sky was falling down
There's a missing star
That I can't replace
And even if you say so
It doesn't make it all okay, yeah-yeah

Ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh

Why should I just keep holding back for you?
I need to unearth this
In any other life I would die for you
But what makes you worth it?

Every day I hoped you would hold me
Imagined your embrace when I needed you most
But nothing could redeem all the time
Not a word, not a rhyme
Now it's time you know

Even if you say so
It doesn't make it all alright
Even if you say so
It doesn't mean I'm not alone
At night
Even if the sky was falling down
There's a missing star
That I can't replace
And even if you say so
It doesn't make it all okay, yeah-yeah

I don't wanna be a liar
History was set on fire
The day you went and left us all behind
I wanna say it's all been better
But that's a lie with every letter
Why'd you have to leave?
Why did you go?

Even if you say so
It doesn't make it all alright
Oh, even if you say so

It doesn't mean I'm not alone
At night

Even if the sky was falling down
There's a missing star
That I can't replace
And even if you say so

Ooh-ooh, ooh-ooh
