

Stone

Harrison Storm

I smile alone, as I remember all your words carried me home
I float along
Won't let the world make me feel like I'm just a stone

Always I'd hoped
That I'd always unfold

So I'd rather be alone than together now
So I'd rather be alone than together now
Why can't I feel like we belong?
Too soon the race swept us along

Wonder, won't you?
This all feels harder cos it seems we didn't choose
Unearthing the truth that lifts you from the dirt
And shows you where to move

Always I'd hoped
That I'd always unfold

So I'd rather be alone than together now
So I'd rather be alone than together now
Why can't I feel like we belong?
Too soon the race swept us along

So I'd rather be alone than together now
So I'd rather be alone than together now
Why can't I feel like we belong?
Too soon the race swept us along
