

Loving You is Where I Belong

Harry Belafonte

Kept apart for oh so long
How I've done without you I don't know
And now as I recall the road we've traveled on
It goes on and on
Loving you is where I belong
Having you here with me would be like coming home
How I feel when I get to hold you is telling it all

Now you come to me at last
And put the miles between us in the past
And as I welcome you my smile, and tears
Can leave no doubt, I know...

Loving you is where I belong
Having you here with me is like coming home
How I feel when I get to hold you is telling it all

Think of all the things ahead
All the promise in the words we said
And as I dream about the road we'll travel on I know...

Loving you is where I belong
Having you here with me
Is like coming home
How I feel when I get to hold you is telling it all
Loving you is where I belong
We'll always belong
