Gone

Harry Hudson

Yeah it's easy to come back
But it's harder to let go
I can tell by the nights
And the blood in my eyes
And the tears on my pillow
So I guess this is goodbye
Fall out like a petal
No more sun in the sky
No more laugh 'til we cry
No more kissing your freckles

When love is gone
In truth is where we hide
It's all we know, it's all we know
When love is gone
Know it'll be alright
Just hold on, it's all we know

When love is gone, gone
When love is gone, gone
When love is gone

There's a break in the silence
Tell me, did you get the message?
I keep wondering why, 'til my mind will remind me
That life is a lesson
Maybe I was all wrong
I'm slowly confessing
All my friends tell me I will be better in time, but

Love is gone
In truth is where we hide
It's all we know, it's all we know
When love is gone
Know it'll be alright
Just hold on, it's all we know

When love is gone, gone
When love is gone, gone
When love is gone

In the city, wasted, tryna paint the sky
Tryna bring back the colors to these faded lines
You can call me crazy, you can call me blind
But I'm not wasting time

When love is gone
In truth is where we hide
It's all we know, it's all we know
When love is gone
Know it'll be alright
It's all we know, so just hold on

When love is gone, gone
When love is gone, gone
When love is gone
