

Meet Again

Harry Hudson

These rivers are frozen
It's hard to say if it will be alright
The stillness has broken
Everything that I have built inside

And I don't know which way to go
Lost my mind to the unknown
Even if I stay here always
I'll keep holding on

For you, you
I'll be waiting till we meet again
For you, you
I'll be waiting till we meet again
Till we meet again

I'm chasing my shadow
Lately he's been the only friend of mine
I'm flawed by creation
I mean nothing
I'm just space and time

And I don't know which way to go
Lost my mind to the unknown
Even if I stay here always
I'll keep holding on

For you, you
I'll be waiting till we meet again
For you, you
I'll be waiting till we meet again
Till we meet again
