

Push

Harry Hudson

Don't let them dim out your fire
Just let them push you away
There's more to this life than just silence
There's more to your heart than just pain

I've been a fool
You made my soul feel way to much
So I play it cool for you
If you need your space then I'll back up

But the water is cold
And you're scared to jump in on your own
You won't let go
If I push you
Time heals it all
But it's hard to just wait on your love
And I'll never know
If I push you

Hurts me to see you keep hiding
Like a shadow outside in the rain
Just know with pressure comes diamonds
You'll know your worth in the end

But I've been a fool
You made my soul feel way to much
So I play it cool for you
If you need your space then I'll back up

But the water is cold
And you're scared to jump in on your own
You won't let go
If I push you
Time heals it all
But it's hard to just wait on your love
And I'll never know
If I push you

Just cause I want it
It don't mean you're ready
Sky full of comets
I'd fall if you let me
Where I belong
Is a place that's a part of your heart
In your heart
In your heart
In your heart
In your heart
In your heart
In your heart
In your heart
In your heart
