

Forgive Me

Harry Styles

You'd rather leave me broken
Than hole with an empty heart
We were better left unspoken
Than a milion miles apart

It's torture to hear in the space between
As you're lovin' and leavin' me

You say there's nothing left to fight for
'Cause this feels like too much
Your heart is so afraid to want more
Of the pain you'll have to touch

You'll only win, if don't give up
'Cause love is war and war is love

Trying to give up on perfect
And your battle of one, oh-ohhh
Tryin' to believe you're within
When every piece of you wants to run

So now that you're caught in the space between
And you're the only end of me

You say there's nothing left to fight for
'Cause this feels like too much
Your heart is so afraid to want more
Of the pain you'll have to touch

You'll only win, if don't give up
'Cause love is war and war is love
