

I'll Be Ready

Harry Styles

If you showed up today would I know your face?
Would I fall apart or would it fall in place?
Could I recognize you from the inside?

If you walked up today would the whole thing change?
Would you light the night or make the sunshine rain?
Would you take it all and make it alright?

And I'll be dreaming of what you might be
Even though it might sound crazy
I'll be ready when you get here.
I'll be waiting here for you, baby
Even though it might sound crazy
I'll be ready when you get here.

Oh, oh yeah oh, oh, oh, oh, oh, oh

If one heart fits another like a puzzle piece,
Maybe you could be the missing half of me.
I know it's happened more than one time.

I haven't seen it all but I've seen enough,
Don't need a million miles to make the road get rough.
We all got things we wanna leave behind.

And I'll be dreaming of what you might be
Even though it might sound crazy
I'll be ready when you get here.
I'll be waiting here for you, baby
Even though it might sound crazy,
I'll be ready when you get here.

It's the way we've been that drives you mad,
It's the story you can't control.
It's the wondering that breaks you down,
But I'm holding on...
(but I'm holdin' on, I'm holdin' on, I'm holdin' on).

I'll be waiting here for you, baby
Even though it might sound crazy
I'll be ready when you get here [4x]
