

You're smoking cigarettes
In the back of your house
I watch the liquor spill
And drip from your mouth
You said you're holding on
To old memories
They keep you from moving on
To all of your dreams

But it wasn't the best and it wasn't the worst
When I feel you again I want to know if it hurts
But to tell you the truth
I'm not the person you knew
But it wasn't the best and it wasn't the worst
When I feel you again I want to know if it hurts
But to tell you the truth
I'm not the person you knew

Cut it off, cut it off
Take pieces of me
Cast away, ricochet
To where you want to be
And when you feel complete
Give them back to me

Cause it wasn't the best and it wasn't the worst
When I feel you again I want to know if it hurts
But to tell you the truth

I'm not the person you knew
Cause it wasn't the best and it wasn't the worst
When I feel you again I want to know if it hurts
But to tell you the truth
I'm not the person you knew

Anymore
I am sure
And then I took you by the wrist
Told you that we can't coexist
Friendly banter
Tonight's a blur
"Are you good?" and "How ya been?"
We do this time and time again

Cause it wasn't the best and it wasn't the worst
When I feel you again I want to know if it hurts
But to tell you the truth
I'm not the person you knew
Cause it wasn't the best and it wasn't the worst
When I feel you again I want to know if it hurts
But to tell you the truth
I'm not the person you knew

Cause it wasn't the best
And it wasn't the worst
