

Disagree

Have Mercy

I always catch you looking at me
Like there's somewhere else that you'd rather be
So take your records and your memories, all your favourite things and leave
You're giving me the shakes that you used to
When we were drunk I got your name in a bad tattoo
Hoping one day I'll find some money and get this god awful thing removed

You always thought, you always thought that you were better than me
You always thought, you always thought that you were better than me
And if I am wrong and this is where you belong
Then I will gladly stand and disagree
You always thought, you always thought that you were better than me

Remember you felt the passion
I always had an attraction to this
Now you find happiness in ignorance and bottles in fist but I wish
You still gave me the shakes that you used to
I got some pictures, we were messed up, we had nothing to do
But take your records and your memories cause I'm through with you

You always thought, you always thought that you were better than me
You always thought, you always thought that you were better than me
And if I am wrong and this is where you belong
Then I will gladly stand and disagree
You always thought, you always thought that you were better than me

Oh I wanna dance till I clear the room
Feel the emptiness without you
I wanna sing along to your favourite songs and be happy that you're gone

You always thought, you always thought that you were better than me

You always thought, you always thought that you were better than me
You always thought, you always thought that you were better than me

And if I am wrong and this is where you belong
Then I will gladly stand and disagree
You always thought, you always thought that you were better than me
