

Parachute

Hawk Nelson

The weight of my mistakes
My regrets and all my shame
Like gravity, it's pulling me
The waves keep crashing in Things I've done and who I've been
The gravity, it's pulling me

I am falling, will You catch me?
God, I need You to be my rescue
I am broken, will You fix me?
God, I need You to be my rescue
Be my parachute

The fear that I'm alone
Around my neck like a stone
And gravity, it's pulling me
I've heard that You are good and You are strong
And if I could I would believe
Help me to believe

'Cause I am falling, will You catch me?
God, I need You to be my rescue
I am broken, will You fix me?
God, I need You to be my rescue
Be my parachute

I know I need You to save me
'Cause no one beside You
Could save me now
Could save me now

'Cause I am falling, will You catch me?
God, I need You to be my rescue
I am broken, will You fix me?
God, I need You to be my rescue...

Be my parachute, parachute
Be my parachute, parachute
Be my parachute
