

We're Alright

Hawk Nelson

Went to t.o. for the weekend
Backstage passes for the show
Muddy shoes, fresh tattoos and a brand new feel- ing
That tonight will be alright we're letting go

How does it feel just to know that we're out of our minds
And we don't need a reason
How does it feel to know you're alright
How does it feel just to know that we are alive
There ain't no better reason
We can make it to- night everything is alright

Distant dreams, a trillion questions
And we exaggerate them all
We think the teens in magazines they have all the answers
As we build this machine to watch it fall

How does it feel just to know that we're out of our minds
And we don't need a reason
How does it feel to know you're alright
How does it feel just to know that we are alive
There ain't no better reason
We can make it to- night everything is alright

How does it feel to know you're alright
We can make it tonight, we can make it tonight