Hawkwind

She was all he regretted or longed for
She'd waved and smiled through eyes of fire
As he sailed from the shore
She was all he regretted or longed for
She'd waved and smiled through furious eyes
As he sailed from the shore

And he prayed that he might, he might see her again
And he prayed that he might, he might see her again

She was all he regretted or longed for
She'd waved and smiled through eyes of fire
As he sailed from the shore
She was all he regretted or longed for
She'd waved and smiled through furious eyes
As he sailed from the shore
