

On a stormy atmosphere
Resources of the world are diminishing
Where do we go from here?

Terror is not the answer
Though it is a shame to see
Will I ever discover
What lies in store for me?

What lies in store for me?
What lies in store for me?
What lies in store for me?

Those promises are major investments
From companies that much to gain
Violent demonstrations
It's all happening again.

I know a dozen reasons
But I still cannot seem to find
That elusive question,
The answer lies within your mind.

The answer lies within your mind.
The answer lies within your mind.
The answer lies within your mind.
