

Wood Nymph

Hawkwind

In a clearing inside a wood
I saw her form close to where I stood
She touched my hand

Silent tendrils of the mist
She felt my face, then a tender kiss
She touched my hand

I was led to a cavern deep
Where I fell into a golden sleep
She touched my eyes

Rays of wonder seal of fate
The dreams I had were so intimate
She kissed my lips

What I thought was a few minutes there
A lifetime passed but I didn't care
She touched my hand

Just to lay in those golden arms
Embraced by her magic charms
She touched my hand

Fires burning in the night
Dark eyes shining so bright
Fires burning in the night
Dark eyes shining so bright

Nothing in nature ever ends
It's all reborn as Earth transcends
Nothing in nature ever ends
It's all reborn as Earth transcends
Nothing in nature ever ends

It's all reborn as Earth transcends

In a clearing inside a wood
I saw her form close to where I stood
She touched my hand

Silent tendrils of the mist
She felt my face, then a tender kiss
She touched my hand

I was led to a cavern deep
Where I fell into a golden sleep
She touched my eyes

Rays of wonder seal of fate
The dreams I had were so intimate
She kissed my lips

What I thought was a few minutes there
A lifetime passed but I didn't care
She touched my hand

Just to lay in those golden arms
Embraced by her magic charms
She touched my hand

Fires burning in the night
Dark eyes shining so bright
My breath is leaving I'm old and grey
I have my dreams of that eventful day

Nothing in nature ever ends
It's all reborn as Earth transcends
