

Remember You

Hayden James

And it's true
I will remember you
I will remember you
Every time (oh)
I see the light of the morning
With the shades half drawn and
I will remember you (oh)
Every time

I will remember you

I will remember you
I will remember
I will remember you
I will remember

I will remember you
And the way you used to lie
Rest your head upon my shoulders
Every time
I will remember you
And the way you used to lie
Rest your head upon my shoulders
Every time

And it's true
I will remember you
I will remember you
Every time (oh)
I see the light of the morning
With the shades half drawn and
I will remember you (oh)
Every time

I will remember you

I will remember you
I will remember
I will remember you
I will remember
I will remember you
I will remember you

I will remember you
And the way you used to lie
Rest your head upon my shoulders
Every time
I will remember you
And the way you used to lie
Rest your head upon my shoulders
Every time
I will remember you
