You came a ragin'
At my front door
You said, "Hey, I never see you no more."
You broke a window
And you climbed on through
I could never be friends with a lover like you

You kissed the chef
He quit the band
Now you're walkin' around with a ring on your hand You told me you need it I almost believed it was true I could never be friends with a lover like you

The station's buzzin'
This room is cold
I gotta get out of here before I get old I'm withered And I can
't take the view I could never be friends with a lover like
you

My legs are shakin'
I need some rest
If you got somethin', get it off of your chest I came here for quiet I ended up in a zoo I could never be friends with a lover like you

You stole my pictures
You changed your face
I don't know how I ended up in this place If I had a lawyer I t hink I'd probably sue I could never be friends with a lover like you

The doctor called me
Before the show
He said, "There's some things I needed to know."
I'm getting' out of here
What else can I do?
I could never be friends with a lover like you
