

Disappearing Man

Hayley Williams

Yeah, we made it, disappearing man
Yeah, we made it, disappearing man
Yeah, we made it, disappearing man

Now I understand how you feel abandoned
At a depth you would never share with me
And I tried to make it to the bottom
Suck out all the poison, but in the end
I have no choice but to surface and surrender

Disappearing man
You could really have anyone
And you had me
Why'd you let go? (Why'd you let go?)
You could really have anyone
Except for me, I suppose

Just like I said, had to come up for air
'Cause I know better than to hold my breath for too long
Now, love, you're not the only one who's lonely
My final act of love was surrender
Oh, surrender

Disappearing man
You could really have anyone
And you had me
Why'd you let go? (Why'd you let go?)
You could really have anyone
Except for me, I suppose (so it goes)

Yeah, we made it, disappearing man
Yeah, we made it, disappearing man
Yeah, we made it, disappearing man
Yeah, we made it, disappearing man
Won't you just surrender?
Yeah, we made it, disappearing man
Yeah, we made it, disappearing man
Yeah, we made it, disappearing man
Yeah, we made it, disappearing man
Won't you just surrender?

Disappearing man
You could really have anyone
And you had me
Why'd you let go? (Why'd you let go?)
You could really have anyone
Except for me, I suppose (So it goes)

Disappearing man, that's spinning there with wild hair
And a stare that could melt stone
There were no conditions to my love
Yeah, it was endless 'til there was no you to hold

Disappearing man
Won't you just surrender?
Disappearing man
Won't you just surrender

Disappearing man
