Cut Me Up

Headstones

You cut me up, you cut me down You cut me in two How can I explain or dignify The things that you do?

I am not a mess, I am not the freak
That you once spoke to
I am right here, I am complete
If I'm not then you're a joke too

No more wasted time to redefine our lives to you You've got something to prove to you You've got something to prove to me I've got nothing to prove to you

Want me to pay, want me to fall I'm not sure who's disgraced You locked yourself into a vault Now your face is mean

I catapult a fresher thought You must watch the groove You catch yourself, you're cynical And that's your excuse too

I want to give you something Something that you've never had
