

Loud & Clear

Heart Attack Man

Are you kidding
Is there something wrong with you
Just enjoy it
It's really not that hard to do

There has got to be something
Severely wrong with me
I can't embrace this moment
Adolescence
Faded away, the seasons changed and all
The steps of time are deafening

I can hear your heart
Beating from across the bedroom it's
Loud and clear

Another lifetime
Spent it tethered to the pain
Am I better
Or just on a longer chain
I don't think I'll know for certain
I'm 28 and feeling like my life's just starting
Early 20's
Faded away, the seasons changed and I
Blinked and I missed out on everything
Crawling out from underneath
This decade got the best of me

I can hear your heart
Beating from across the bedroom it's
Loud and clear
