

See Right Through You

Heart Attack Man

I'd be hard pressed to find Any reasons whatsoever to change my mind
As far as I'm concerned
I mean as much to you as the bridge you burned
'Cause I keep second guessing
As to if you ever mean a single word you say
A single word you say
And I don't want to keep on acting
Like I didn't see it coming from a million miles away
A million miles away

I'll see right through you as if I never knew you
Peel off all of my skin
Shake my hand and ask me how I've been

I've been trying hard not to seem like I can see right through
you
Peel off all of my skin
Shake my hand and ask me how I've been
I've been trying hard not to seem like I can see right through
you
