

Sugar Coated

Heart Attack Man

Hey, what's up?
I hate your guts
Your dog shit charm is drying up
I hope you get your ass kicked
'Cause you're so painfully fake and plastic
You're such a motherfucker, such a soul sucker
I wanna watch you squirm and suffer
Ignore my even-tempered world view
Mercy is a virtue
But all I wanna do is hurt you

I hate everything about you, everything about you
I hate everything about you, everything about you

The only thing that I regret is everything I wish I'd said
Dragged down so low to your level
I'm never going back again

I hate everything about you, everything about you
I hate everything about you, everything about you
Take you out behind the shed
So you can take a look inside my head
I hate everything about you, everything about you

Some friends turn to strangers and some turn to targets
You want it sugar-coated, but this feels so cathartic
What do you want me to say?
I can't help it that I feel so heartless (Feel so heartless)
I feel so heartless
