

Isolation

Heart of a Coward

Carry the weight of the conflict inside
A constant battle you can no longer fight Fractured thoughts twist and consume and devour what is left of you
Corrupted, deceived
Your mask hides what lies underneath
Suffering through your self-deprecation

As your darkness pulls you under
Descending, you lose control

Tormented, besieged
A mind that is riddled with disease
Crippling under vivid delusions
With no hope of them letting you go
Living in nothing but pain
A life of isolation
Detached from the heart and locked in your mind
You're slowly fading away
With your last bit of strength, reach for the light

As your darkness pulls you under
Descending, you lose control
To the darkness you surrender
Know that you're not in this alone

A life lost in isolation
A life lost in isolation

As the darkness pulls you under
Descending, you lose control
To the darkness you surrender
Know that you're not in this alone

Know that you're not in this alone
Know that you're not in this alone
Know that you're not in this alone
