

Terminate the Unconcern

Heaven Shall Burn

We're trapped within an endless loop
Of empty words and declarations
We will not trust in you!
This deliberate confusion
Makes me want to carve the truth
Into their sneering faces
Our time is now!
All your deceptive protestations,

I can't stand it anymore
We are the wake up call!
This is the end of your misleading
Divide and conquer -
Your tried and trusted concept,
Executed and enforced,
Yes, from year one

We see decades elapsing, years passing by,
This idleness an endless bane
In the name of progression, it's time
To terminate, to terminate the unconcern

And a long time ago
I heard your talk about our current age
And today you're still discussing times ahead
So powerless and impotent,
Phrases all repetitive

I say future -
You mean futures
I scream future -
You hear futures

Your talk is cheap! A fight for "tomorrow"
Means the uncompromising transformation of today

Before uneasy truths become just bitter certitudes
Yes, all must change to save the status quo!

We see decades elapsing, years passing by,
This apathy a heavy blame
I cannot wait for confessions, it's time
To terminate, to terminate the unconcern

As all your lies became convictions
And blind beliefs infected common sense
We cannot wait for shining saviors,
We will end your tampering

The days of your timeworn doctrines are over,
Your fall from power imminent

And never again
Will you fail to fulfill
Your duties and commitments
Those days are over,
Gone forever!

Strength of purpose will now rule
Your corrupt world
You shall be driven!
