Three Star Compartment

Heavenly

Don't ever speak that way to me again
In that way
I couldn't care less
If you loved me best
And don't say that you can love just once
For always
Try to forget all
Storybook drivel
And don't say you'll never love again
It's cliched
And so deluded
Stop being stupid
True love will
Never die
You don't think that's a lie?
When you're kissing, but still missing me
It's because you want to
When you're flirting but you're hurting still It's because you try to
When you left her and said I was why
It's because you lie so
Kill your dreams and kill your love
I've had enough
Don't tell yourself that I'll be back any day
Hey you're just dreaming
I know that feeling
And don't keep on saying "let's still be friends"
There's no way
While you're still hoping
We could be loving
Can't you see true romance is dead
Dead always
So your heart's broken You must be joking
You think love is
Ceaseless and enduring
Well if that's so
It's unceasingly boring
No more always
For ever and repititous
